

Sophomores

The Sophomore year, a bridge between the lowly freshman, and future-seeking upperclassmen. Yes, we made it through the dreadful year, being looked down upon, called "freshman!" with a lower-case f. But yet sophomores are still waiting in the wings. To be older . . . . These bright lights shining upon our junior and Senior years. For sophomores too young to take the keys, but too old to sit in the backseat of the family station wagon . . . waiting, for proms that lie ahead, more discipline to be shed, college-bound planning, not yet needed. But for all the waiting that is involved, our sophomore class takes it in stride, showing our pride. For we know that when its our turn that we'll be the best Senior class that was seen or heard, and to be remembered, forever.

B.C. Scholars are #1!
Our ninth grade team took first place in the first National Geography Olympiad held in 1986. B.C. took the number one spot out of 255 schools entered from across the country. The contest was sponsored by the National Council for Geographic Education.
